Kristiansand is situated on the very south coast of Norway, facing the European continent and surrounded by water on three sides. The Kristiansand area is known for busy summer harbours, white wooden houses, a rocky coast with skerries and the Quart Music Festival. Kristiansand is easy to reach no matter whether you travel by car, bicycle, bus, train, ferry or plane. Kristiansand Airport Kjevik is situated 12 km east from the city centre and has good world-wide connections with daily flights. The port of Kristiansand is the second largest in Norway. Different shipping lines are responsible for trade, transport and contact with the Norwegian coast and Europe as a whole.

Kristiansand is well served by The Norwegian State Railways (NSB) and different bus/coach companies such as for example Nor-Way Bussekspress.

To the east and west, as well as to the north through the picturesque Setesdal Valley, Kristiansand gives priority to safety for cyclists. Kristiansand is a pioneer town for a network of separate paths for cyclists and walkers.

Travel TIPS

A map of the City is available at www.turystyka.szczecin.pl.

The most convenient way of reaching the city by car is to take the A11 Motorway from Berlin, or the A20 Motorway from Lübeck. Tourists traveling by train can choose from a wide selection of railway connections (at <http://rozklad.pkp.pl/> and www.bahn.de). Additionally, the holders of DB Schönes-Wochenende-tickets, Berlin-Brandenburg-tickets or Mecklenburg-Vorpommern-tickets will also be entitled to travel free on Szczecin's public transport. Also, the enthusiasts of sailing will have no difficulty in reaching Szczecin. The shortest water route from Berlin to the Baltic Sea goes via Szczecin. Tourists from more distant parts of the globe can fly into the Goleniow airport, situated 45 km from Szczecin. The Polish Airlines LOT provides shuttle buses between the airport and the city centre (prior reservation required, valid with the flight ticket). The ride takes about 50 minutes. Alternatively, for PLN 9,90 per person, tourists can take a minibus running to the bus station in Szczecin (organized by: Interglobus Tour). The taxi fare with the Airport Taxi Group is PLN 120.

December

It doesn't take long to find your very own little gem in Söderslätt with its myriad of small shops, galleries, cafés, beautiful churches and charming Skåne longhouses. Along the coast there are small fishing villages side-by-side. Or make your way to Sweden's southernmost point - Smygehuk. In the centre of Trelleborg the whole family can experience the Viking age at a genuine castle with museum. The history is extremely enticing as is the surrounding countryside, which offers cycling tours through small villages as well as relaxing rounds of golf.
